Log Types

Log types are used to group log entries by classification indicating the nature of a log entry. Additionally, subtypes can be created within each log type to further characterize the log entry. For example, a log entry related to cheating on a test is discipline-related. Discipline is the log type, and cheating is the subtype. Log Entry Fields

Log entries are used to create a record regarding a student's behavior, performance, or activity. Many schools use log entries to chronicle disciplinary actions. Log entries can also be used to record students' positive achievements.

The default Log Entries page contains over forty fields, which may or may not be applicable to your district. Based on your needs, you can customize the page to eliminate unneeded fields. Log Entries page customizations are reflected on PowerSchool's Log Entries page.

Using the Log Entry Setup page, you can determine which fields appear and the selections for each field, the format in which the field appears, and the order in which the field appears on the page.

How to Customize the Log Entries Page

1. On the start page, choose District under Setup in the main menu. The District Setup page appears.
2. Under Discipline and Log Entries, click Log Entry Fields. The Log Entry Setup page appears.

The following information displays for each of the 44 configurable log entry fields:

Field	Description
Field Name	Name of all the log entry field as it appears in the database. To edit this information, click the corresponding Field Name link.
Field Label	Title of field name, which appears on the Log Entries page.
Description	Description of the field name. This information is for reference only and does not appear on the Log Entries page.

Sort Order	Order in which the field appears on the Log Entries page. You can assign a value of 1 to 44. If you give two or more fields the same value, the fields appear in ascending alphabetical order within the selected sort order. Fields that are not assigned a value appear in ascending alphabetical order at the bottom of this page. If you do not want a field to appear on the Log Entries page, choose Hide. Note: You cannot hide the following fields: Entry_Date, Entry_Time, Entry_Author, LogType, Subtype, Consequence, Subject, and Entry.
------------	--

3. Click the Field Name link of the field you want to customize. The Edit Log Entry Field page appears. The page varies based on the field you selected.
4. Use the following table to edit information in the fields:

Field	Description
Field Name	The name of the log entry field appears as it is in the database.
Field Label	Enter the title of the field name, which you want to appear on the Log Entries page. Some HTML formatting is supported. Note: You cannot modify the Field Label for the following fields: Entry_Date, Entry_Time, Entry_Author, LogType, Subtype, Consequence, Subject, and Entry.
Input Type	Use the pop-up menu to select the form in which you want the field to appear: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Entry field • Static field • checkbox • Popup menu • Radio buttons • Entry box Not all menu items are available for each Field Name. Only those menu items that are applicable Input Types appear.

	Note: You cannot modify the Input Type for the following fields: Entry_Date, Entry_Time, Entry_Author, LogType, Subtype, Consequence, Subject, and Entry.
Width	If you select the Field Type of "entry field" or "entry box," enter a value to indicate the width of the field/box.

Data for Popup or Radio buttons	If you select the Input Type of "Popup menu" or "Radio buttons," enter the information you want to appear. A pop-up menu contains values, which consists of two segments. The first segment is the value that is stored in the database. This value is not visible on the Log Entries page. The second segment is the label, which appears within the pop-up menu. The first and second segments use a semi-colon as a delimiter. To set a default value for a pop-up menu, enter a semi-colon as the delimiter and then enter an asterisk at the end of the default entry. The following is an example of a properly formatted data for a pop-up menu where "P;Police" is the default entry: S;Student T;Teacher A;Administrator O;Other School Staff P;Police;* N;Non-School Individual U;Unknown Some fields in the Log table are called "flag fields" because they end with "Flag," such as "Discipline_FelonyFlag" and "Discipline_LikelyInjuryFlag." Flag fields are stored as numeric values. No is stored as a 0 while Yes is stored as 1. The following is an example of properly formatted flag fields: 0;No 1;Yes A radio button follows the same rules as pop-up menu. The only difference is that with a pop-up menu, you can enter numerous sets of values. With a radio button, you are limited to only two sets of values.

5. Once you have entered the appropriate data on the Edit Log Entry Field page, click Submit. Upon submitting your customizations, data validation is performed. An error page appears if one or more invalid entries are found due to the following:
- An empty entry.
 - More than one default value.
 - An entry that has only one segment.
 - An entry that has only one segment where that entry is marked as the default entry.

The error page lists the line numbers where the error occurred and instructs you to return to the Edit Log Entry Field page to make corrections. The following are example of error messages you may encounter:

- The entry in line 2 of the popup values is invalid.
- The entries in these lines of the popup values are invalid: 2 and 4.
- The entries in these lines of the popup values are invalid: 2, 3, and 4.

Note: Additionally, the system removes nulls (Char(0)) though no alert page is returned.

Work with Log Entries

Log Entries

Use log entries to create a record regarding a student's behavior, performance, or activity. Many schools use log entries to chronicle disciplinary actions. Log entries can also be used to record students' positive achievements. Regardless of your reason for creating the log entry, the system immediately sends the log entry to the PowerSchool server, where it is stored in the student's permanent record. Only authorized staff members can view, add, edit, and delete log entries and discipline alerts.

Note: The Log Entries student page is customizable. The information presented in this section is based on the default setup and may differ from your PowerSchool Log Entries student page. For information about configuring this page, see Log Types and Log Entry Fields.

How to View Log Entries

1. On the start page, search for and select a student. For more information, see Student Search.
2. Under Administration, choose Log Entries from the student pages menu. If nothing appears, no teachers or other administrators have created log entries for the selected student.
